Set: Friday 10th June 2016

Due in: Wednesday 15th June 2016

Related learning: To use art to express literature.

'A great storm is gathering, the seas are huge, the skies full of anger.'

This is a section from our book 'The Wreck of the Zanzibar' which is set on the Isles of Scilly. This week, we would like you to produce a piece of art work to represent this section of the text. You may choose any type of art you would like to e.g. a collage, a drawing or a painting. You need to create the mood of the text through your art work.

We are really looking forward to seeing your work.

Also remember to read and ask someone to sign your 'Reading Record' book please for a raffle ticket.
